

My entire family and I listen to Air 1, a nationally and regionally broadcast station. It has continuously brought us day-brightening music, catchy tunes, and daily inspirational quotes. Without it, I fear, I would be forever discontent with the selection of local stations in my city. I believe that thousands of others in my city and surrounding areas feel the same way. Air 1 is known as the "Positive Alternative," and offers great rock music without today's typical themes of drug usage and unprotected sex. I believe Air 1 does everyone a service by not encouraging these depressing and dangerous choices, and by focusing on going to friends, family, and a higher power for support and help in life. My entire city would probably be much better off if they followed this advice and found the freedom and fun God offers us all. Thank you for considering my comment! Bless you!
